Prime Power Launch

On January 5, CobbWorks, Inc. launched the Cobb Pathway Apprenticeship-Power Up! program to train 11 individuals in the Emergency Power Supply Industry. Trainees will receive stipends throughout their training as well as supportive services to bolster their success.

The program's purpose is to increase economic mobility and reduce racial inequities through skilled trades training for minority and low-income populations. The program will also act as a catalyst to strengthen the talent pipeline for employers in the energy industry by bridging the skills-gap and cultivating an intentional pipeline of entry-level workers from under-served populations.

This initiative partners with Prime Power, a leading provider of emergency power system (EPS) services in Georgia and throughout the Southeast United States, to train apprentices in the Emergency Power Supply Industry.

Future Month

On January 30th, WorkSource Cobb participated in Future Month, which was a career exploration for youth and job assistance for parents presented by Cobb County Schools. The event also included Construction Education Foundation of Georgia (CEFGA) and Community in Schools (CIS).

WorkSource Cobb participated in two parts of the program. The first provided information on the center's resources as well as employment opportunities to parents of Cobb students. The second component was provided by WorkSource Cobb's BOSS program. They presented the Career Academy Boot Camp to middle school and high school students.
